Benzinga Power Hour interview for an MS-IR LLC client! #CEO Jason Raznick invited Foresight Automotive's (#NASDAQ: FRSX) #CFO Eli Yorseh and Doron Cohadier, VP of Business Development, to talk growth prospects, expansion and technology.

The company's multi-spectrum vision sensor-based technology is used to detect obstacles in all weather conditions, using sophisticated stereo cameras.

Cohadier discusses the company's sales to OEM and Tier One automakers and suppliers, and Yorseh summarizes the next phase of Foresight's growth, in which customers seek customized solutions to eventually deploy the company's products in higher volumes. The journey from co-development to "design wins" is in progress with a global customer base.

"Our customers are all the big players —the big Tier Ones, the big OEMs," Yorseh said. "Our target is to grow as widely as possible, and as big as possible. It's the right time, the right moment, and we have the right technology."

The company will release financial results soon.

The full interview runs from 2:50 to 27:00, here: <https://bit.ly/2S08Hz4>
